Dear Sir, I have your note stating that you did not get the name of the man who cleaned the gutter, from me. I am aware of that, but you can get it from Dr. Parbairn, and I regret it was not done in time to have saved the addl. damage of last night's rain.

I must not be expected to leave my pressing engagements to hunt up a matter you have at hand, which, I presume, you can get without trouble.

Yours &c.
A. Hyde

My dear Sir,

Mr Brady has not written me on the subject of your copies, nor did he send them to me to bind. He has not acted as my agent for nearly two years - except in delivering subscriptions he already had - , & I suppose he sent the copies to some other bindery. If Mr. Brady acknowledges having possession of your two copies, you need have no fear about receiving them.

In a day or two you will receive copy of my Chronicle; it is a book which I hope to work into something useful.

Yours very truly
Geo. Barrie
